

How do we know that our curriculum is having the desired impact?

Teachers

- Have the required subject knowledge.
- Have higher levels of confidence in delivering all areas of the curriculum.
- Can give Senior Leaders and Subject Champions feedback about what is working well.
- Use accurate assessment for learning.
- Teach consistently to a high standard, applying highly effective pedagogical practices in all lessons.
- Plan coherent sequences of lessons.
- Seek support where necessary.
- Support staff are utilised highly effectively.

Children

- Can talk with confidence about what they have learned, using correct terminology.
- Are enthused and interested in a wide range of curriculum areas.
- Can talk about the specific characteristics of subjects and the disciplines associated with them.
- Can show adults examples of their learning and describe the 'why' behind work they have produced.
- Demonstrate excellent learning behaviours in all lessons.
- Are able to explain how their learning within a subject builds on previous learning.
- Are able to make thoughtful links between subjects.
- Can all access, enjoy and make progress within the curriculum - regardless of their starting points, or any additional needs they may have.

Children's work

- Demonstrates that they take pride in what they produce. Children show the same effort in all subjects.
- Captures their increasing understanding of key concepts within each subject.
- Illustrates their developing understanding of the disciplines of each subject, as well as the declarative knowledge content.
- Shows that a coherent teaching sequence has taken place within each unit of work.
- Demonstrate our curriculum's emphasis on subject-specific terminology.

Visitors and Governors

- Give us positive feedback about pupil engagement and behaviour in lessons.
- Comment on the high-quality work that they see.
- Report that leaders are clear about strengths and weaknesses, and have clear plans to address areas for development.

Parents and Carers

- Give us positive feedback about their children's attitudes to school.
- Share examples of when their children have been enthused by the curriculum (e.g. they've been talking about learning at home, or carrying out their own research because of their interest) = see Twitter!
